

GRETA KNUTZEN - BIO

My husband, Iggy, and I have been permanent residents of the area since November 2020. We fell in love with the upper river valley when we first met, we are big hikers, and have been visiting the area ever since. The pandemic and advent of broadband simply accelerated our plan to move to the area permanently.

For twenty+ years I produced documentary film and television and large-scale public art events. My role was to manage the various stakeholders and bring each project to life. Recently, I have focused that skillset more locally and have been actively involved in various community projects in the Upper Delaware region. I have always been interested in community, specifically how strong healthy communities are sustained. I believe it is important to be additive, to get involved and contribute in whatever ways one can. This community has embraced us and we are so thankful.

In the last few years, I have volunteered time to local community initiatives such as July 4th Festival, Halloween Fest, the River Reporter's River Round Table series [nee Let's Talk]. I am a member of the Narrowsburg Volunteer Fire Department and sit on the boards of the Narrowsburg Chamber of Commerce and Growing Older Together. My participation has given me great joy and I have met and made many new and amazing friends.

I co-founded Tusten Social with Greg Triggs last year to work with the many wonderful local non profit organizations to create robust year round health, wellness and socialization programming with a particular focus on families, seniors and youth. Our partners include Tusten Youth Commission, Growing Older Together, Sullivan Office for Aging.

I am currently establishing my own business, Latitude 5175, to develop desirable missing middle housing solutions allowing people to age in place and remain in their home and community for as long as they wish.

Iggy and I and our ornery dog, Maizey, live in Cochecton and could not be happier to be part of this wonderful community.
